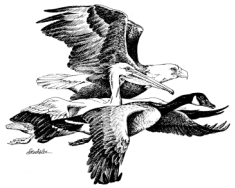
SEASONAL WILDLIFE HAPPENINGS



January	February	March	April	May	June	July	August	September	October	November	December
Freeze-up concentrates eagles BV,LK,TL	Peak of Waterfowl Migration		Spring Shorebird Migration Peak	Antelope Fawns Born		Fall Shorebird Migration Peak		White-Faced Ibis Leaving Basin	Waterfowl Hunting on Refuges	Refuge Waterfowl Peak at 1 to 2 Million Birds
	Bald Eagle Conference President's Day Weekend in Klamath Falls			Great time to use Waterbird Photo Blinds
		First Canada Goose Broods Seen		Duck Broods Seen on Refuges LK,TL,UK,KM			Fall Migrating White-Fronted Geese Begin Arriving		First Snow Geese Arrive
Best Timing for Photographing Bald Eagles from Refuge Photo Blinds LK,TL				White-Faced Ibis Breeding in Lower Klamath Marshes						Hawk Numbers Increase Dramatically
Large Numbers of Hawks on Refuges					Northern Orioles Nesting in Trees at Refuge Headquarters						Bald Eagle Numbers Increasing
	Swans Often Seen by the Thousands TL,LK,KM					Fall Migrant Western Sandpipers Arrive
	Bear Valley Eagle Flyout Peak			Good Time to Visit Klamath Marsh Refuge. Pelicans, Cranes, and Great Scenery				Pintail & Mallard Numbers Start to Increase			Freeze-up begins and Most Migrants fly South
Spectacular Winter Scenic & Wildlife Photo Opportunities on TL & LK Refuges		White Pelicans Return UK,KM,LK				Canoe Trails open on TL and KM Refuges			Sandhill Cranes Stage on LK Refuge		Great Time to Photograph

Key to Refuges: LK=Lower Klamath; TL=Tule Lake; KM=Klamath Marsh; UK=Upper Klamath; CL=Clear Lake;